LO: To create the resolution of my story.

In the resolution, the story should end. This can be either a good ending or a bad ending, it's up to you. Use the same picture stimulus and complete your story.

Example:

Example:

Suddenly, the water began to ripple and bubble. In the centre of the swamp-like pond where the beautiful jewel had landed, a huge fountain of water suddenly squirted into the sky. The dirt and grime began to disintegrate, revealing a transparent, beautiful pool of water.

The dying, drooping willow tree finally stretched out its arms as if being awoken from an endless sleep. The once limp branches were now alive and blooming with beautiful, green leaves again.

The cloudy, dark sky became bright again as the sun shone down on the hidden temple after years of abandonment.

Lastly, the stone slabs of the temple ruin began to shake and suddenly, with an almighty force, they floated elegantly into the air and began to reform the beautiful structure.

"Dad, what's happening?"

"I, I don't know Jane, I don't know." Hans replied.

Then, they heard an almighty voice from above.

"You have returned the temple jewel to its rightful place. Years ago, the evil temple ruler Glandara removed the beautiful stone from the floor of the sacred temple pond and kept it in a treasury room to himself. By returning it, the darkness he brought to this kingdom is now gone and the people can live again."

With that, hundreds of happy civilians immediately came rushing towards the tremendous temple. Celebrating and applauding, they could finally return to their home and live happily where they belong, in the stunning Tuimari Temple.
