

We did a bit of fraction work before the Easter holidays. This is a bit of a recap for you all to check that you haven't forgotten what you know about fractions! We spent a lot of time working on our fractions knowledge back in February and March, I was really impressed with how well you all understood it all.

Please watch the video link explaining what fractions are and complete the worksheet below the link. I have provided answers if you want to check your work.

There are also 3 different extension sheets where you have to find/ colour the right fraction. Please have a go at ONE of these sheets. If you don't have a printer, don't worry, just write/ draw the answers into your book. If you want to complete all three extensions you can, but that is only if you want to.

After the lesson, please have a go at the Mathematics tasks I've been assigning over the past couple of weeks and practise your times tables.

I miss you all, keep uploading pictures onto Seesaw!
