

Watch the film again and consider these questions

- Did you notice anything that they didn't notice before?
- Has your opinion/ perception of the boy changed at all?
- What genre they think the story is and why do you think this?

Today we are going to begin to prepare to write a PREQUAL to the story.

What is a PREQUEL?

Definition: a book or film that tells about events that happened before the events in a book or film that was previously published or made.

We will be writing about what happened before the events in the film.
