How is VE remembered by those that were there?

Remember, the Second World War impacted your community and changed people's lives at the time! If it's safe to do so, why not take a walk and look at your local memorial. Look closely at the names—they all had families that they left behind! Try and find out if any of your relatives remember it happening.

It may have also impacted your family as well. My Grandma and Grandad were children during the war and remember VE Day. I've written what they said on the next pages. Can you identify any similarities and differences in their accounts?

They both grew up in the same locality, Selby in Yorkshire, but saw different sides to the same event.
